The street

by Anna Brecht and Jet van Zwieten

Collected waste from the streets of Milano is being transformed into a small house.

Coming to an end of the building process we start to merge more and more with the street, its people and their customs.

We like to thank all contributors and supporters; this weekend we will open the bar to celebrate life in Via Vigevano!

come and join us:

The people of Via Vigevano

Erika
ice cream seller

I like the school next to my shop because in the afternoon the kids come to eat my ice cream. They are very funny.

Enzo mechanic

I really like this street because of the ordinary people that live here. Just normal people.

Giuliano
pizza maker

In this street, I only like my own pizzeria. I'm not from this part of the city.

Lucy
hairdresser

This street is very nice in the night-time. It is very lively. The best area for good food or a drink.
